Summary

"Running to keep my hands on you"

"Sometimes the one you've been looking for is right in front of you"

Minerva Regan is not one to judge. Sure, she has a lot of things that would be wrong with her views, but she's isn't one to judge. That's why when her boyfriend of three years, Lee Minho, cheated on her, she didn't judge him for it.
Minho is obviously guilt ridden and will do anything to take her back -- but does she really want him back?

-Third Person-

“Are you sure, you really want to go to school today? I mean, we literally just got back home, like at midnight.” Minerva’s father asked her, but the girl just shook her head

Minerva was gone for the summer, taking care of her mother who was needing help as she was dying of stage IV leukemia. It was a long and hard three and a half months, but she was glad to take care of her mother. She hasn't seen her mother, since she and her father divorced when Minerva was only thirteen years old -- but she really didn’t expect to see her that way.

Even though Minerva was DEAD tired, and just wanted to sleep, it was the first day of senior year. The last first day she’s gonna have in High School, because she is technically going to college after high school ends, on a full ride. Yeah, that’s right, she’s got a scholarship. A scholarship for what? Well, basically for her writing skills. Minerva wanted to be either a English teacher or a writer.

But the reason she wants to go to school the most -- is not because of it being the first day of senior year, no, no. She wants to go to school, to see her boyfriend, Lee Minho.

Minerva hasn’t seen Minho, in three months! She’s obviously called and texted him, hell go as far as video chatting with him, but sadly it’s not the same. She was not physically with him, and it was killing her!

“Dad, I think I’m gonna be fine. I’ve ran on only seven hour sleep before.” Minerva says to her father as she looked over at her phone, time being 7:40 am, signalling that it’s time for her to go to school, before she’s late

“Dad, I gotta go. I’ll see you when I get home.” Minerva says giving her dad a quick kiss on the cheek, and she ran out of the house, running down the sidewalk of her neighborhood, until she heard a voice way too familiar to not stop to

“Is that Minerva Regan?” Han Jisung -- one of Minerva’s best friends ask

Minerva smiled to herself and she turned around to the squirrel-like boy, who was walking with his girlfriend, Amarah.

Jisung has been Minerva’s best friend ever since he moved from Malaysia when he was only six years old. Jisung was the new kid at school, no one wanted to be around, but luckily for Minerva she was looking for a friend to hang out with as well.

“Damn, girl, you got sexy, give me your number.” Amarah joked and Minerva chuckled rolling her eyes

Amarah, Jisung’s girlfriend, is actually bisexual, and Amarah had the fattest crush on Minerva, only to find out that she was straight and in a relationship (and been in a relationship since like freshman year)

But luckily Amarah found Jisung, who was loving enough to give her the same type of love that Amarah had for Minerva, but sadly Minerva couldn’t give to Amarah.

They started dating in their sophomore year of High School, and have been dating since. Not once they have talked about breaking up -- not once! Without Jisung, Amarah would feel unloved and unwanted by the world.

“How was your summer, Minnie?” Jisung asked as the trio started walking down the pavement and Minerva sighed

“It was hard. Hard seeing my mother like that. All sickly and pale, hooked up to a bunch of machines.” Minerva confessed

“I bet.” Amarah mumbled, and Minerva sighed

“But enough about that. How’s Minho?” Minerva asked changing the subject into a more happier one

Minerva was very optimistic. She isn’t one to judge someone. If they had beliefs that she didn’t believe and that she found wrong, she would disagree with them, but she wouldn’t judge them. She’s a very nice and understanding person.

“Well . . . he uh . . .” Jisung stammered and Minerva was confused on why he was stammering

"He misses you! He missed you so much." Amarah exclaimed covering for Jisung

The truth is . . . Minho has been seeing someone by Minerva's back. No one else knows, besides Jisung and Amarah, since those two had caught Minho with the other girl.

Minho had told them to not tell Minerva, which put sooooo much pressure on Jisung, because that's his best friend, and to be honest, Jisung can't lie for shit!

"Oh, that's good. I'm just so happy to see him!" Minerva chimed getting so happy and giddy at the thought of being able to see her boyfriend after three long whole months.

It was lunch, and Minerva hadn't seen Minho like at all. She's getting pretty worried, because he would usually come find her, if they didn't have any classes with each other in the mornings.

So for Minho not to come and find her at all, is worrying her.

"Where is Minho? He would've found me by now." Minerva wondered to her friends, who were - besides Amarah and Jisung - just as confused as she was

"Yeah, it's weird. He's usually here with us right now." Felix says and Minerva just stood up from her seat

"Where are you going?" Jisung asked getting tense

"I'm gonna go look for him." Minerva says as she was walking out of the cafeteria, with her friends following her -- wherever Minerva goes, they go.

As Minerva kept calling Minho, trying to find out where he was. She kept thinking that he didn't go to school today -- but no, that's impossible, because Minho never missed a day of school in his life.

"Damn, do people have to make out in the hallways all the time?" Seungmin commented and that caught Minerva's attention, and she looked over to the couple that was making out, but she didn't make too much of it, until she walked a little closer, to find out it was her boyfriend.

It was Lee Minho.

"Minho?" Minerva called and the girl and Minho pulled away, and he looked over to Minerva and he instantly started to curse in his head.

Shit, I forgot she would be back today!

"Minerva, i-it's not what it looks like-" Minho tried to say but Minerva shook her head, as she felt tears starting to well up in her eyes at the sight she just saw

"It's okay." Minerva says putting a small smile on her face

That's one thing, Minerva and Minho had in common. The way they tried to hide their emotions with a smile. How they smiled whenever they felt like they wanted to cry their eyes out. They never liked showing their weak points of themselves. They always wanted to show their happy points.

"No, Minerva -" Minho tried to speak up but Minerva shook her head, smile still on her face

"It's okay, Minho. I'm not mad at you. I just wish you could've told me you wanted to break up." Minerva says as she felt a tear run down her face, but she immediately wiped it away not letting her boyfriend -- sorry ex-boyfriend seeing her cry.

"Wow . . . awkward." The girl Minho was making out with says, and Minerva just sighed and gave Minho one last smile before she walked off with Amarah and Jisung following her, leaving six pissed off boys and one pissed off girl in front of Minho and the girl he was making out with

I didn't expect this,* Minerva thought to herself as she walked down the hallway with her two best friends who were trying to comfort her

This was not the way to start of senior year

A/N

Here's chapter 1 of my new story!!!

I'm excited for this story -- I say that for all my stories tbh haha!!

I'm a proud writer alright?!

Recently like very recently I've been very proud of my writing -- from like last year when I wrote my very first Kihyun story called Fighter, is when I felt like my writing started to get better

But I've been in a tangent of writing Minho stories now after not writing them in for like ever!!

Alright you know the drill, this story will include: HEAVY HEAVY HEAVY ANGST, LIGHT FLUFF, DEPRESSION, ANXIETY ATTACKS, & CAR ACCIDENTS (BUT IT WILL SHOCK YOU)

:WELCOME TO THERE FOR YOU, HOPE YOU ENJOY THE RIDE:

DON'T BE A SILENT READER, SHARE YOUR THOUGHTS!!!
